

A 9-week old puppy has been alive for 63 days.

They have been taken away from everything familiar and safe, and brought in to a home where everything is new... new people, new things, new situations that they don't know or have any idea how to navigate.

Set realistic expectations.

Be patient.
Be kind.
Teach them.

Stop expecting them to be little mind readers.