

Contents

Introduction to the Handbooks for the Professional Financial Advisor SeriesX

Introduction.....1

Benefits of Team Building.....5

Client Benefits.....5

Team Member Benefits6

Advisor Benefits.....7

Firm Benefits.....8

Delegation and Supervision.....11

The Need to Delegate11

What Should be Delegated12

Delegating Can be Difficult13

Address Your Fears of Delegating13

Making Delegating Easier14

Supervision15

Systematic Supervision15

Outsourcing to Access Specialists and/or Save Time.....17

Marketing17

Technology.....17

Miscellaneous.....17

When to Add a Team Member19

Questions to Ask Yourself and Existing Team.....19

Team Size Relative to Practice Size.....21

Hiring New Team Members.....23

Hiring Process23

Attracting the Right People to Join Your Team23

Involve Your Existing Team in the Hiring Process24

Who to Hire as Assistants	25
Attitude and Personality.....	25
Education	27
Work Experience	27
Manage Expectations of Candidates.....	28
Potential Interview Topics.....	29
Warnings Regarding Hiring	30
Training Team Members	33
Industry Courses	33
Review Advisor’s Business Model.....	34
Technology and Software.....	35
Hands-on Training.....	35
Train Your Team Members to Train	36
First Show the “Why” and a Sample Finished Product	36
Tools for Hands-on Training.....	37
Encourage Independence and Self Checking	37
Supervision.....	38
Involve Team Members in Everything	38
Coaching and Mentoring.....	38
Learning from the Experience of Others.....	40
Additional Team Training Tips/Comments	40
Team Structure	43
Team Structure Evolution	44
Spontaneous or “Ad Hoc” Structure.....	46
Administrative Assistant	46
Specialist Structure	47
Research Assistant	47
Marketing Assistant	48
Estate Planning Assistant	48
Portfolio Development Assistants	49
Including an Assistant in Client/Prospect Meetings	50
Frustrations with My Specialist Structure	52

Associate Structure	53
Including an Associate in Client/Prospect Meetings	55
Associate(s) with Assigned Assistant(s) Structure	56
Meetings with a Family's Next Generation (Under 30? Just Getting Started?)	57
The Flexibility of an Associate Structure	58
Integration of Specialist Role into the Associate Structure	58
Qualities I Looked for in Associates	59
Clients, Team, Advisor and Firm All Benefit from Associate Structure ..	60
Client Benefits	60
Team Member Benefits	61
Advisor Benefits	62
Lessons I Learned from the Evolution of My Team Structure	63
Which Team Structure is Right for Your Practice?.....	64
Team Duty Allocation Spreadsheet	64
Evaluating Your Current Team and Team Structure	65
Team Compensation	67
Objectives of My Team's Unique Compensation Structure	67
Bonus Components.....	68
Personal Effort Bonus	68
Practice Revenue Bonus	69
Special Bonus	70
Compensation Component Combinations for Different Team Member Roles	70
Administrative Assistant.....	71
Assistant to the Associate	71
Associate	71
Determining Specific Bonuses and Estimating Advisor's Total Costs	72
Team Payroll Sensitivity Analysis Spreadsheet	73
Instructions Tab	74
Input Tab	74
Summary Tab	74
Practice Revenue/Advisor Pay Scenario Tabs	75

Presenting New Revenue Bonus Percentages to Team Members.....77

Advisor Actual Team Compensation Costs Spreadsheet78

Motivating/Inspiring the Team.....83

Motivating Factor Groups84

 Personal Benefits85

Compensation.....85

Knowledge and Skill Development85

Gaining Experience and Exposure to Various Areas of the Financial Industry86

Opportunities to Advance Own Career Within the Team.....87

Opportunities to Advance Own Career Within Financial Industry87

Feeling Productive.....88

Personal Recognition.....89

Positive Feedback on Day-To-Day Work90

A Promotion or Increased Responsibilities.....90

Respect90

Transparent Bonus Compensation Structure90

Titles91

Personnel Evaluations.....91

Feeling Appreciated91

Seasonal91

Celebrations.....92

Length of Service Recognition.....92

Departing Team Members.....92

Making a Difference93

Being Part of Something Bigger94

Include Members of the Team on Major Decisions.....94

Promote Team Attitude94

Compensation Based on Total Team Revenue95

Share Your Successes with Your Team.....95

Include All Team Members in Marketing Materials.....95

Recognize Team Members as Unique Individuals Within the Group95

Empowerment96

Training	96
Increase Independence	96
Involve Team Members in Decisions That Affect Them Directly	97
Templates, Macros and Calculators	97
Up-To-Date Technology	97
Contact Management System	97
Remote Access	98
Preventing Demotivation	98
Examples of Demotivators	98
Identify Demotivators Through Observation and Open Lines of Communication	99
Minimize or Remove the Drudgery	100
Minimize or Eliminate Roadblocks and Bottlenecks.....	100
Support/Back Up Team Members	101
Poor Personnel Evaluation Policies	101
Dealing with Mistakes	102
Admit When You Are Wrong	102
Team Meetings	103
Informal Impromptu Team Meetings.....	103
Team Meeting Topics	103
Experience with Regularly Scheduled Meetings	104
Relationships with Team Members	105
1:1 Lunches.....	105
Show Interest in Team Member's Career	106
Patience with Brief Periods of Underperformance.....	106
Team Member Turnover	109
Non-performing Team Members	110
Understand the Underperformance Before Giving Up	111
Are Advisor Expectations Reasonable?	111
Reasons to Fire Someone or Feel Relieved When They Quit	112
Costs of Keeping A Non-performing Team Member	113
Firing Non-performers	114

Ask Departing Team Member Why It Did Not Work Out114

Don't Let Turnover Affect Your Long-Term Vision115

Valued Team Members115

Quality Team Members Are Not Always a Long-Term Fit116

Compatibility Issues.....116

Personal Reasons.....116

Attractive Opportunities Elsewhere117

Ask Departing Valued Team Member Their Reasons for Leaving117

Opportunities Arising from Team Member Turnover118

Opportunity to Promote Remaining Team Members.....118

Opportunity to Raise Pay for Team Members and Advisor118

Bonding of Remaining Team Members119

Opportunity to Re-evaluate Team Structure and Allocation of Duties..119

Consider Revising Your Hiring Process119

Minimizing Turnover Damage.....120

Departure of an Associate Who Has Client Relationships.....120

Minimize Gaps in Experience Caused by Turnover120

Contact Management System121

Part on Good Terms121

Key Takeaways123

Conclusion127

More for Everyone.....127

Afterword: COVID-19131

Appendix: Team Member Duty Lists137

Associate Structure Sample137

Specialist Structure Sample144

Acknowledgements.....151

About the Author.....153